

Invitation for Physics Education PhD Students and Researchers to Join the GIREP Summer School

(June 28–29, just before the GIREP 2025 Conference, Leiden, Netherlands)

Are you interested in

- Joining a PER-specific venue focused on PhD students' work-in-progress?
- Participating in a workgroup where PhD students present their work-in-progress and receive high-quality feedback from young and expert researchers?
- Benefiting from opportunities for networking and developing community?

Please join the 2025 GIREP SUMMER SCHOOL.

PhD students, please upload your application at the Call for Abstracts before February 16, 2025. If you have submitted a GIREP Conference paper, please note that abstracts for the Conference can be adapted easily for submission to the Summer School, with additions describing:

- Current stage of the work (e.g., developing intervention / data collection tools / analysis scheme, etc.)
- 2–3 dilemmas concerning your work that you would like to discuss with the Summer School participants

Researchers (including supervisors of attending PhD students) please apply at <https://www.girep.org/application-non-phd-student/>

Please note that no additional abstract is needed.

Supervisors of PhD students who will attend the Summer School are encouraged to participate.

Questions? Please email the organizers at summerschool@girep.org.

Looking forward to seeing you in Leiden!
